ENTHUSIASTIC SENDOFF.

Thirty of Second Church Members at Early Train—On His Way to Pacific Coast.

Rev. Dr. L. L. West left here Monday morning for Boston on the six o'clock train and to his great surprise there was a party of thirty or more members of the Second Congregational church there to see him off. He was given an enthusiastic sendoff there and eighteen of the party accompanied him as far as Jewett City, where, with rousing cheers, they left him for the first stage of his long journey west. The party returned by trolley.

Dr. West went to Boston, where he was met by Mrs. West and Miss Margaret West, and started at noon for their western journey. They expect to arrive in Everett on Friday and Dr. West will preach in his new church on Sunday. About thirty of the young people of the church sent letters to stages of the long journey. They will serve to break the monotony of the

Y. M. C. A. DELEGATION

RETURNS FROM NEW HAVEN.

Enthusiastic Result of the Convention and Strong Addresses.

Full of enthusiasm to put into practice some of the ideas they had received at the boys' department convention Friday, Saturday and Sunday at New Haven, the Norwich delegation returned here Monday by the 12:05 train, although one or two who had to get back earlier reached here at 10 o'clock. Assistant Secretary George P. Hyde, who, with Physical Director Leasing Bandow, accompanied the Norwich delegation, stated on Monday that the total attendance at the convention was 134. Of these 153 were boys, making the largest number registered at any state convention. One of the particularly strong addresses they strove for on Sunday afternoon on "Chums" by H. W. Gibson, state boys' secretary of Massachusetts. The chums for a boy, he said, were books, thoughts, mother and Christ. At the close of his address there were sixty boys who signed cards signifying their purpose to live a Christian life.

Richard Young, one of the Norwich delegates, was chairman of a committee that held a high school group, and Benjamin Bruce served on the resolution committee.

There is a chance that the Norwich team may yet win the Gail B. Munson trophy, which is given to a competitive drill, and which was awarded to the Meriden team by a margin of a point and a half over Norwich. Five of the associations having teams in the competition have entered a protest against Meriden, on the ground that they did not use the Roberts dumbbell drill, which was the drill prescribed by the conditions of the competition. Norwich was not the loser in the protest, but joined in when it found that the other associations were filing protests against Meriden. If the protest holds, Norwich will win the cup.

The local boys had a fine time, were greatly entertained and were wildly cheered when on the floor in the competitive drill.

CITY COURT CASES.

Fellow Who Took Team Fined $7 and Costs—Man Found in Telephone Exchange.

In the city court on Monday morning, J. Kosinski of Jewett City, charged with taking a team without the permission of the owner, was fined $7 and costs.

Clark Barber of Voluntown came here Saturday and imbibed too freely and during the evening walked into the telephone exchange, but found there asleep on a couch in the retiring room of the operators about ten o'clock, as some of the operators were getting through work. He gave them quite a scare, but didn't wake up. Sergeant Twomey took him, he having been called from police station. He was fined $5 and costs for intoxication and paid.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Top Line of Vaudeville, Illustrated Songs and Moving Pictures.

With every act a winner on the bill of vaudeville, the Auditorium had a really good show on Monday at the matinee hour and in the evening. All were so good that the popular favor was almost evenly distributed.

Heard and Rutter made up a dancing team, who were very clever in their snappy song and style of their own, whether in hard or soft shoe dancing. On the silver wire, Mile. Omega, a police perfectionist, presents a high class performance of a balance act, performed with the greatest ease and grace.

Claude and Marion Cleveland, who have appeared on this stage before, are back again at a better than ever in their snappy song and talking acts. They received a warm welcome upon their reappearance here. A Welsh Rarebit Dream, a novelty comedy sketch, is the turn offered by Guy Bartlett & Co., in which they make a rather compelling bit, appearing in blackface. Bartlett's rich voice, heard in up to date parodies, is the gem of the entire bill, as shown by the recalls he has to render.

In moving pictures, the selections are good, and Lillian Morelle's two songs are among the best she has had. Her spot light number is The Kerry Dance, and her picture song is Toodles.

Jeremiah Sullivan Improving. It was stated on Monday that Jeremiah Sullivan, who was injured by the cave-in of the ditch in West Main street last week, is getting along better and will be out in a few days. He was able to be up Monday and is gaining rapidly.

FIFTH COMPANY RETAINS SHIELD

Had the Highest Figures of Merit in Rifle Practice During Past Season—Qualified More Men than Last Year

An announcement which was learned with much pleasure by the members of the Fifth company, C. A. C., of this city was made at the meeting of the Coast Artillery Officers' association last Friday night at New London, when Ordnance Officer A. P. Woodward made known the figures of merit of the various coast artillery companies and showed that the Fifth company was in the lead and retains the copper shield another year. The shield is a company record in the army, and it looks as if it would be somewhat difficult to get it away from the Fifth.

This company, under Captain Tarbox, had a figure of merit for the past season of 31.34, and during the season more men qualified than in the previous year, and there are three experts added. Last year the figure of merit was 30.83, showing quite a gain this year, and a lead over all the companies of the corps. Those in eastern Connecticut showed the best figures, however.

All of the officers of the Coast Artillery companies of this city were present at the officers' meeting at New London, there being Captain Hagberg, Captain Tarbox, First Lieut. Coleman, First Lieut. Nichols, Second Lieut. Church and Second Lieut. Burdick. The gathering proved decidedly enjoyable, the local officers returning home Saturday morning. An interesting feature was contributed by Major Ellis and Captain Kerick of Fort Wright, officers of the United States regulars, who spoke entertainingly to the association.

Major Ellis commended the work of the militia officers, considering it was a side issue with them, and thought it very praiseworthy that they accomplished such results. Both of the officers spoke with much interest and displayed their friendly relations with the reserves.

BISHOP BREWSTER

COMING IN FEBRUARY

Will Be Here on 19th and 20th to Visit Five Churches.

The December number of the Connecticut Churchman, the official organ of the Protestant Episcopal diocese, just issued, announces the visits of Bishop Chauncey B. Brewster from this date to the middle of March, the dates for this end of the state being: January 9—First Sunday after Epiphany, a. m., Grace church, Stamford Springs; p. m., St. John's Rockville; evening, Grace chapel, Hartford. February 13—Saturday, p. m., St. James', Poquetanuck; evening, Grace church, Yantic. February 20—Second Sunday in Lent, a. m., Christ church, Norwich; p. m., St. Andrew's, Norwich; evening, Trinity church, Norwich. Clergymen received into the diocese since October 1, are: The Rev. Isaac Peck, rector of Trinity church, Brooklyn, from the diocese of Long Island.

An appeal from the mission society of the diocese will be met in full, Bishop Brewster says.

For years it has been his hope that this diocese might raise its apportionment. The past year's Connecticut mission society in New England that did not do so. Please God, I hope, and shall endeavor, that the diocese may be redeemed from that reproach this year.

The amount asked from this diocese is $7,000. To some this amount may look large. It means, however, only an average of seventy-one cents from each of our communicants, many of whom, I am sure, would, and gladly would, give much more.

At my particular request, a method has been introduced, and pains have been taken, to the end that the apportionment upon the mission society should be laid with some discrimination and as fairly as possible. I ask that the apportionment thus laid be loyally met with generous response.
